Thursday 21 June 2012
Cleaver Square, London SE11 4EA
from 7.00pm

The second Boules Muratti will be held in the idyllic setting of Cleaver Square – one of London's finest Georgian Squares that has the added attraction of a pub selling Shepherd Neame beers from Faversham, Kent.

Boules is suitable for people of all ages and abilities.

This will be an informal evening for which there is no charge, just come along. If you have any queries, contact Paul Le Herissier, paul.leherissier@yahoo.co.uk, 07870 695 512.

After the Match, there is the possibility of having a curry at an excellent Indian restaurant nearby.

The nearest underground station to Cleaver Square is Kennington (Northern Line). Vauxhall (Victoria Line) and Elephant & Castle (Bakerloo Line) are about 15 mins. walk away. Buses passing near to Cleaver Square are 3, 59, 133, 155, 159, 196, 333, 360 & 415.
